Dear Acting Regional Administrators,

In accordance with Executive Order 13777, "Enforcing the Regulatory Reform Agenda," GSA has assembled a Regulatory Reform Task Force of leaders, including career and non-career GSA employees, from across the agency to identify regulations or policies that may be ripe for repeal, replacement or reform. The members of GSA's task force are dedicated to accomplishing the President's goal of alleviating unnecessary regulatory burdens and providing maximum value to taxpayers.

As part of this effort, I would like to invite you to participate in an informational telephonic meeting to be held on Thursday, July 13, 2017 at 1:00pm EST to review the Task Force's plan for regulatory reform review and how you and your regional staff may be able to assist in the process. A calendar invite with call in information will be forthcoming. I hope you can attend and I look forward to speaking with each of you about this important undertaking.

Please email me at michael.downing@gsa.gov to confirm your participation.

BTW, Giancarlo didn't have a copy of a previous designation, but sent me some email traffic from the past that seemed to conclude that no additional designation was needed if it was stated the PD. I've asked OGC to review/confirm and sent Marcia a copy this version of the PD, too. I'll keep you posted on OGC's determination. Let me know if you have any questions. Karla

Hi Mike - Here is the latest version of the AA for OGP PD that contains the language stating that the incumbent also is designated to serve as the Chief Acquisition Officer. Hi everyone,

It was brought to my attention that some did not receive this email, so I'm recirculating..

Last week we thanked employees for their responses to the internal GSA survey on the Executive Branch Agency Reform Plans. We wanted to share with you the full set of survey responses we received. The responses are able to be filtered to understand what office was commented on, the action itself, the type of activity and where the respondent sits in the organization.

As you know, we are submitting GSA's Agency Reform Plan by the end of the week and we look forward to conversations with you all about how we might respond to specific ideas.

Best regards,
Scott

Dear Acting Regional Administrators,

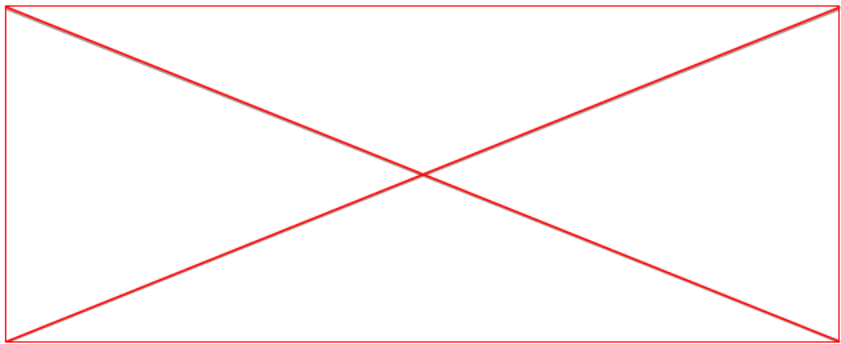

In accordance with Executive Order 13777, "Enforcing the Regulatory Reform Agenda," GSA has assembled a Regulatory Reform Task Force of leaders, including career and non-career GSA employees, from across the agency to identify regulations or policies that may be ripe for repeal, replacement or reform. The members of GSA's task force are dedicated to accomplishing the President's goal of alleviating unnecessary regulatory burdens and providing maximum value to taxpayers.

As part of this effort, I would like to invite you to participate in an informational telephonic meeting to be held on Thursday, July 13, 2017 at 1:00pm EST to review the Task Force's plan for regulatory reform review and how you and your regional staff may be able to assist in the process. A calendar invite with call in information will be forthcoming. I hope you can attend and I look forward to speaking with each of you about this important undertaking.

Dear Acting Regional Administrators,

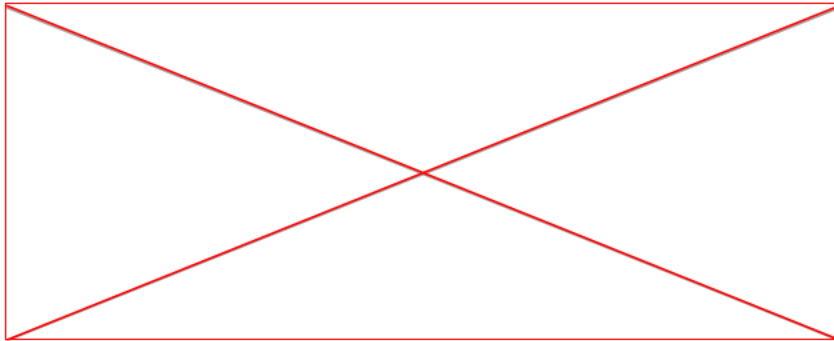

In accordance with Executive Order 13777, "Enforcing the Regulatory Reform Agenda," GSA has assembled a Regulatory Reform Task Force of leaders, including career and non-career GSA employees, from across the agency to identify regulations or policies that may be ripe for repeal, replacement or reform. The members of GSA's task force are dedicated to accomplishing the President's goal of alleviating unnecessary regulatory burdens and providing maximum value to taxpayers.

As part of this effort, I would like to invite you to participate in an informational telephonic meeting to be held on Thursday, July 13, 2017 at 1:00pm EST to review the Task Force's plan for regulatory reform review and how you and your regional staff may be able to assist in the process. A calendar invite with call in information will be forthcoming. I hope you can attend and I look forward to speaking with each of you about this important undertaking.

Please email me at michael.downing@gsa.gov to confirm your participation.

Best,
Mike

AFTERNOON COMMUNICATIONS BRIEFING

July 6, 2017

NEWS OF THE DAY

POTUS' Powerful Speech in Warsaw

Read the Full Speech Here

Top Line

- | The President of the United States today delivered a seminal speech that will resonate across the World with a powerful message: The West will never be broken.
  - | POTUS: "I am here today not just to visit an old ally, but to hold it up as an example for others who seek freedom and who wish to summon the COURAGE and the WILL to defend OUR CIVILIZATION."
- | America is again standing up for the values of the West and rallying Europeans who support those values as well.
  - | POTUS: "This continent no longer confronts the specter of Communism. But today we in the West still face dire threats to our security and our way of life. We are confronted by another oppressive ideology- one that seeks to export terrorism and extremism all around the globe... We must stand united against these shared enemies to strip them of their territory, their funding, their networks, and any form of ideological support."
  - | "But just as our adversaries and enemies of the past learned here in Poland- we know that these forces too are doomed to fail. They are doomed not only because our alliance is strong, our countries are resilient, and our power is unmatched- though all of that is true. Our adversaries are doomed because we will never forget WHO WE ARE.... And above all, we value the dignity of every human life, protect the rights of every person, and share the hope of every soul to live in freedom. THAT is who we are. THOSE are the priceless ties that bind us together. As nations- allies- and as a civilization."
- | This speech was more than just rhetoric. Major actions have already been taken:
  - | Increase in U.S. defense spending
  - | Effective U.S. efforts to increase NATO Member defense spending
  - | American Energy Dominance as a new strategic initiative, with an impact on the balance of power
  - | The President's Riyadh trip and a new alliance of Muslim nations to drive out the terrorists
  - | The President's efforts to drain Washington DC's bureaucratic swamp and return power to American people.

Background

- | This was a rallying of the West with new energy and new confidence, in keeping with American presidential tradition.
  - | E.g. Kennedy in 1963 in Berlin and Reagan in 1981 at Notre Dame, 1982 at Westminster, and 1987 at Berlin.
- | The setting:
  - | The President's remarks were delivered at The Warsaw Uprising Monument In Krasiński Square.
    - | This monument was unveiled in 1989, on the 45th anniversary of the rebellion.
  - | The Warsaw Uprising began on August 1, 1944 and ended on October 2, 1944, lasting a total of 63 days.
    - | "On August 1, 1944, the Polish Home Army (Armia Krajowa; AK), a non-Communist underground resistance army with units stationed throughout German-occupied Poland, rose against the German occupation authorities in an effort to liberate Warsaw." ("Warsaw Polish Uprising," The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum)

More than 150,000 people died in the Warsaw Uprising.

"Komorowski recalled that World War Two left Warsaw destroyed in 80 percent and with enormous human losses, the Warsaw Uprising alone costing the lives of more than 150,000 people. 'These figures are horrifying and we ourselves find them shocking even today. But we know and remember, that this sacrifice and the victims were not in vain,' the Polish president declared." ("Polish And German Presidents Mark Warsaw Uprising Anniversary," President Of Poland, July 29, 2014)

Key Excerpts from the President's Remarks

The triumph of the Polish spirit over centuries of hardship gives us all hope for a future in which good conquers evil, and peace achieves victory over war.

I am here today not just to visit an old ally, but to hold it up as an example for others who seek freedom and who wish to summon the COURAGE and the WILL to defend OUR CIVILIZATION.

The story of Poland is the story of a people who have never lost hope, who have never been broken, and who have never forgotten who they are.

We must stand united against these shared enemies to strip them of their territory, their funding, their networks, and any form of ideological support. While we will always welcome new citizens who share our values and love our people, our borders will always be closed to terrorism and extremism.

Finally, on both sides of the Atlantic, our citizens are confronted by yet another danger – one firmly within our control. This danger is invisible to some but familiar to the Poles. The steady creep of government bureaucracy that drains the vitality and wealth of the people. The West became great not because of paperwork and regulations but because people were allowed to chase their dreams and pursue their destinies. Americans, Poles, and the nations of Europe value individual freedom and sovereignty. We must work together to counter forces, whether they come from inside or out, from the South or the East, that threaten over time to undermine these values and to erase the bonds of culture, faith and tradition that make us who we are.

The people have been that foundation here in Poland- they were right here in Warsaw- and they were the foundation from the very beginning in America.

Because as the Polish experience reminds us- the defense of the West ultimately rests not only on means but also on the will of its people to prevail. The fundamental question of our time is whether the West has the WILL to survive.

Our own fight for the West does not begin on the battlefield- it begins with our minds, our wills, and our souls.

OTHER NEWS OF THE DAY

Poland and G20

Top Themes for the Trip

Promote American Prosperity

Both in Warsaw and in Hamburg, the President looks forward to building on all the ways he advanced the economic interests of the United States on his earlier trip, which concluded just over one month ago.

Protect American Interests

The United States is a global power with global interests and responsibilities.

Only by remaining engaged with the world can we protect our vital security interests, keep our people safe, and increase the well-being of all Americans.

Provide American Leadership

As we've all seen, when America leans back, the consequences can be far-reaching.

The American people benefit when our leaders lead.

That's true at home and it's just as true abroad.

President Trump will provide that leadership in ways that further America's national interests.

These three themes tie together every engagement President Trump has with a foreign leader, whether in the White House or overseas.

Core Objectives for the Trip

Strengthen American Alliances

- America First does not mean America alone.
- President Trump has demonstrated- both at home and abroad- a commitment to American alliances, because they serve the national interest.
- Strong alliances help America further our own interests- in fact, alliances are one of the main benefits that separates America from some of our competitors. We have allies and they, mostly, do not.
- That's a huge benefit to America's strategic position in the world.
- The President will meet with many NATO leaders.
  - He will reiterate America's commitment to collective defense
  - He will reaffirm America's strong insistence that all allies pay their fair share.
  - We've seen countries strengthen their defense budgets in response to the President's call, and we're encouraged by that progress.
  - When we all do more, our alliance becomes stronger, and our countries more secure.

Reaffirm Who We Are

- Travelling to Europe- especially to Poland, which had its identity forcibly submerged for so long- is a great way to demonstrate what binds us not just as an alliance, but as a civilization.
- America has been influenced by many nations but we are fundamentally a child of Europe.
- Our civilization will thrive or decline together.
- Remaining together is one way to ensure that we thrive.

Forge a Common Understanding of Threats

- The President made great progress toward this goal in Saudi Arabia, where he forged a strong consensus on denying terrorists' safe haven, cutting off their funding, and discrediting their wicked ideology.
- He'll continue to build on that great work, while also addressing other threats- including attempts by revisionist powers to subvert the global order that undergirds our common security.

Develop a Common Approach to Russia

- As the President has made clear, he'd like the United States- and the entire West- to develop a more constructive relationship with Russia.
- But he's also made clear that we will do what is necessary to protect our interests.
- The path is ultimately Russia's to choose.
- Whatever course they take, the West's response will be stronger if we stand together.

Expand Economic Opportunity for Americans

- At the G20 in particular, the President will urge the world's leading economies to take steps in their own countries to strengthen economic growth.
- He will support G20 countries continuing to proactively use all the tools at their disposal- monetary, fiscal, and structural- to strengthen growth in their countries.
- He will also make clear- even to allies- that America cannot tolerate unfair trade and economic practices that disadvantage our workers and our industries.
  - Importantly, the G20 economies need to do more to address global imbalances, especially from overcapacity in industrial sectors.
  - On trade no less than on alliances, "America first" does not mean "America alone."
  - The goal of U.S. trade policy is to expand trade in ways that are free, fair and reciprocal. Insisting on fair trade is the best way to ensure the long-term strength of the international trading system.
  - We look forward to engaging in free and fair trade with the G20 economies.
  - The United States stands firm against all unfair trade practices, including non-market practices that harm U.S. workers.
  - We will do what we need to do to level the playing field to ensure that trade benefits all people.
  - We welcome the G20 economies to join us in this effort.

Strengthen Energy Markets

- One of the President's goals is to create robust, open and fair energy markets that drive economic growth and leave no countries hostage to energy market manipulation for political ends.
- We are committed to the energy security of our allies and partners, and the diversification of energy sources, supplies, and routes.
- We also want to prioritize universal access to affordable, reliable energy.
- The President's America First energy plan will help us achieve all of these objectives.

Protect the Environment in Ways Favorable to Economic Growth

- The President left the Paris Agreement because it was a bad deal for the United States.

He is open to re-engaging in the Agreement, or a new agreement, if it makes sense for the American people.

He remains committed to working with world leaders and the private sector on sound environmental policy and on innovative technologies.

While renewables have a role to play, we can't achieve the growth or the anti-poverty agenda we want without strong contributions from clean fossil fuels- technologies in which the U.S. is a global leader.

North Korea

The United States strongly condemns DPRK's escalatory launch of an intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM). We are monitoring and continuing to assess the situation in close coordination with our regional allies and partners.

The launch demonstrates that North Korea poses not only a threat to the United States and our allies, but also all nations in the region and beyond. This action makes clear that strong and resolute action by the international community is needed.

North Korea's ballistic missile and nuclear weapons programs are grave threats. North Korea openly states that its ballistic missiles are intended to deliver nuclear weapons to strike cities in the United States, the Republic of Korea, and Japan.

Our commitment to the defense of our allies -- the Republic of Korea and Japan -- in the face of these threats remains ironclad. We remain prepared to defend ourselves and our allies from attack, and are prepared to use the full range of capabilities at our disposal against the growing threat from North Korea.

These provocations should only serve to increase the international community's resolve to counter the DPRK's prohibited activities, including through implementing existing UN Security Council sanctions.

We call on all nations to use every available channel and means of influence to make clear to the DPRK and its enablers that further provocations are unacceptable. We also call on all nations take steps to show there are consequences to the DPRK's escalations.

We intend to bring North Korea's provocative and escalatory action before the UN Security Council and call for new strong actions to hold the DPRK accountable.

The United States seeks only the peaceful denuclearization of the Korean peninsula and the end to threatening actions by North Korea. As we, along with others, have made clear, we can never accept a nuclear-armed North Korea.

Supporting Families and Children

Top Line:

Providing a national guaranteed paid-leave program- with a reasonable time limit and benefit cap- isn't an entitlement, it's an investment in America's working families.

The benefits of paid family leave are numerous:

- Healthier children and parents in more tightly bonded families, greater financial stability and stronger attachment to the labor force are among the most important.

Unfortunately, those who need these benefits the most aren't getting them; the poorest, most vulnerable workers in our society get left behind.

- Currently, only 6% of workers in the bottom income quartile have access to paid family leave.
- Studies show that these individuals- particularly women without a college degree- are far more likely to lose or quit their jobs in the event of childbirth, resulting in a far greater cost to society over the long term.

Paid family leave enjoys the support of the overwhelming majority of the American people.

- A recent poll by the National Partnership for Women and Families found that 82% of voters think it is important for Congress to consider a paid-leave program.

The Trump administration is working with lawmakers on both sides of the aisle to design a paid-leave policy that provides a targeted benefit to help the people who need it the most and are least likely to receive it from their employer, without discouraging larger companies from developing more generous policies.

READ MORE: Ivanka Trump Replies on Paid Family Leave

Background:

The President's budget proposes six weeks of paid family leave to new mothers and fathers, including adoptive parents, so all families can afford to take time to recover from childbirth and bond with a new child.

Building on the Unemployment Insurance System as a base, the Budget proposes to allow States to establish paid parental leave programs that are most appropriate for their workforce and economy.

From NBC: "The U.S. is the only developed country in the world that does not have a national paid leave policy for parents. Poll after poll shows that the vast majority of Americans want this. A poll last year by Fortune and Morning Consult found 83% of Democrats and 71% of Republicans supported it."

It is time to make America great for working families.

Ms. Murphy:

I hope you are making progress in filling the positions at the GSA. It seems apparent new energy is needed to advance the President's agenda.

My interest in serving is still strong. Let me know if you have any questions about my experience or if you would like to discuss how I can help you in your efforts.

Thank you for your time and interest.

Subject: Opportunities at GSA

Dear Ms. Murphy:

Robert MacKichan suggested I reach out to you about a position in the GSA. I spoke with him a few weeks ago about my interest in coming to DC to help serve in the new Administration and was waiting for Tom Garrett's office to send over a letter on my behalf. I understand that finally happened this week. (I know Tom has bigger issues to address).

Like you, I have a graduate degree from The University (mine at the Darden School). I have worked since leaving the University in real estate development, first with large firms and then with my own company the last couple of decades. More information on my work experience can be found on the attached resume.

With my experience managing diverse contractors, negotiating contracts and leases and dealing with multimillion dollar budgets, I believe I could play a significant role in the GSA. Certainly managing real estate assets would be a natural fit.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss opportunities that you hope to fill and to see if I can help you meet your goals at the GSA. I am very flexible and could speak with you on the phone or head up there to meet you if you have time.

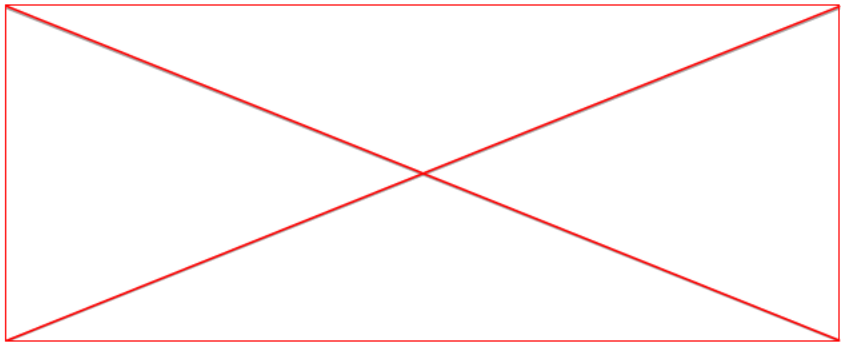

I appreciate your service and the sacrifice you and other members of this Administration make on a daily basis. I look forward to connecting with you soon.

Dear ,

In order to increase the government's ability to deliver the benefits of digital transformation to citizens and businesses, they need systems that are securely architected for seamless human interaction, unhindered interoperability, and unified team collaboration over distance.

If you're interested in learning about breaking collaborative tech barriers to solve government challenges, Oblong is presenting a Tech Talk meetup on July 12. You can register for the event here.

The full detail of the event is in Oblong's invitation below.

INVITATION TO DRIVING INNOVATION BY TRANSFORMING TEAM COLLABORATION

Advances in technology, such as cloud, big data, and mobile, are transforming how agencies utilize information technology services. Federal CIOs have opportunities as never before to accelerate mission delivery, improve customer service, and anticipate emerging needs. However, an effective Digital Government Strategy relies on human assets just as much as technology solutions.

Join us for drinks, demos and a discussion on how collaborative technology is helping their agency meet their mission more effectively and quickly.

Speakers include:

- | Lisa Alsop, Acting Executive Director, Office of IT Strategy, Policy, and Governance, Department of Health and Human Services
- | Rob Bectel, Chief Technology Officer, Office of Information Dominance and Chief Information Officer, Office of the Secretary of the Air Force
- | Tim Hayes, Deputy Division Chief, Bureau of Information Resource Management, Office of eDiplomacy, U.S. Department of State
- | Frank Konieczny, Senior Advisor for Technology Transfer, Office of Technology Transitions, Office of the Under Secretary for Science and Energy, Department of Energy
- | Moderated by: Kimberly Hancher, Principal Consultant, Deep Water Point, and Former Chief Information Officer, Equal Employment Opportunity Commission

Event details:

- | Date: Wednesday, July 12, 2017
- | Time: 4:00 PM - 7:00 PM EDT
- | Location: Oblong Industries, 1400 Key Blvd, Level A, #7, Arlington, VA

Here is the edited version of the PD with pen & ink changes noted. There was a mention further down in the PD to WH Liaison duties, so those were struck out as well. BTW, Giancarlo didn't have a copy of a previous designation, but sent me some email traffic from the past that seemed to conclude that no additional designation was needed if it was stated the PD. I've asked OGC to review/confirm and sent Marcia a copy this version of the PD, too. I'll keep you posted on OGC's determination. Let me know if you have any questions. Karla

Hi Mike - Here is the latest version of the AA for OGP PD that contains the language stating that the incumbent also is designated to serve as the Chief Acquisition Officer. I'll check with OGC (Lenny and Janet Harney) to confirm whether anything else is needed to designate Allison as GSA's CAO and will let you know what they say. K
